Sarah Tweedale:

"I've been a keen photographer since my teens. Digital technology has liberated me to dive more deeply into the world of photography and photo art. And living on Galiano, there is a constant display of flora, fauna, and a variety of landscapes to capture.

My main camera is a Canon 70 D and my iPhone is always with me when I am not carrying my 'big' camera. Its amazing what the smart phone can capture! I look forward to sharing what I've learned, answering your questions and helping you to dig deeper into capturing and sharing images with others.

You can find some samples of my work on the web at www.curiousspectacles.com and sarahltweedalephotography.com, or check out my Flickr page (Sarah L Tweedale)"

PS - Sarah would love to know in advance some of the questions you hope will be addressed at the Tech Cafe. Please email her at stweedale@gmail.com

Stella Kingscote:

"I grew up and remain on Galiano Island BC for the time being. I spend my time on the island mainly reading, writing, drawing, and taking photos, which are all passions of mine. I enjoy sharing my knowledge with other people helping them learn the things I know how to do.

My main focus in photography is portraits, but I also love taking a little stress off by taking photos of the beautiful island I live on.

My main camera is a Nikon D5100, and normally attached to it is my 35mm f/1.8 lens, my go to for portraits. What inspired me to begin photography I do not know. But I do know it is something that I will enjoy for the rest of my life.
